An event under CSM's Climate Challenge India initiative

In 2008, climate change and energy issues rose dramatically up the agenda of Indian business. Many are aware of instruments such as the Clean Development Mechanism (CDM), but few are aware of international climate talks to set the context for future carbon markets and emissions reductions. Negotiations are currently underway and will culminate in a successor to the Kyoto Protocol in Copenhagen in December 2009.

Come to this free seminar to learn about international negotiations towards a 'Global Deal' on climate change, what they could mean for India and Indian business, and how your company could play a productive role in helping shape them.

This information seminar and consultation is being organized by the Centre for Social Markets, in partnership with Businessworld magazine, to mobilize a progressive Indian business input to the climate negotiations.

Speakers

Dominic Waughray, WEF
Jaswinder Kaur, Cleantech Group
Thomas Haahr, Danish Embassy (tbc)
